

Branding — Final Decision

Chosen brand: Yacine Path Hungary

Display lockup: Yacine Path (primary) + Hungary (secondary)

Tagline: From Algeria to Budapest. Step by step.

Social handle (target): @yacinepathhungary or @yacinepath

Date: July 2026

Why this name

Requirement	How Yacine Path Hungary delivers
Keep "Path" (user liked)	Path = journey metaphor — orientation → arrival
More punch than "Path" alone	Hungary adds destination, searchability, university credibility
Yacine-first	Yacine is the first word students see
Algeria → Budapest story	Tagline + eyebrow carry the route; name stays short

Rejected alternatives: Yacine Path alone (too minimal), Yacine Study Hungary (less distinctive), Budapest with Yacine (Yacine not first).

HUNGARY

From Algeria to Budapest. Step by step.

- mark in gold square = path / forward motion (logo v1, no designer needed yet)
- Colors unchanged: teal #0D4F4F + gold #C9A227

Brand voice

Tone: Friendly, honest, expert — like a trusted older student who has done the journey, not a sales agent or government brochure.

Do	Don't
Use Yacine's real story and name	Promise guaranteed admission or visa
Explain costs clearly (tuition, living, service fees)	Use fake urgency or hidden fees

Do	Don't
Separate Stipendium (free) from self-funded (paid service)	Charge for or imply paid scholarship applications
Show the 5-step journey visually	Copy competitor websites word-for-word
WhatsApp as primary contact	Hide founders (no faces, no names)
Link to official Study in Hungary / Stipendium pages	Claim official government status
Algerian student perspective (FR/AR content for students)	Generic "study abroad anywhere" messaging

Language: English for universities and website v1; French and Arabic for student-facing content (social, orientation video, key pages in v2).

Example — good: "We guide you step by step — from first question to enrolled student in Budapest. No hidden fees; Stipendium applications are free through the official portal."

Example — avoid: "Guaranteed visa! Limited spots! Apply now before it's too late!"
